

3267-9952

The event in progress, June 8, 1972, Cambodia, time of the photograph

Tasking:

Move to the optimum position/location and describe the target focussed on in the photograph.
Describe ONLY the target in detail.

Extra Feedback:

Kim Phuc Phan Thi, center, running down a road near Trang Bang, Vietnam, after a napalm bomb was dropped on the village of Trang Bang suspected by US Army forces of being a Viet Cong stronghold. Photographer: Huynh Cong Ut (also known as Nick Ut).

The image above is an Associated Press photograph that won the Pulitzer Prize for spot news. It was taken by Nick Ut on June 8, 1972.