

Lingering impressions approximately one hour after reading all sessions:

Troubled male life form with worries on mind
Something having fallen from above
Desert area

Further comparison of data

(increased size of words indicates degree of data agreement)

Physicals

Buried in sand
Desert area
Remote
Gully
Hills
Large raised mound / hill
Massive structure
Near sea or expanse of liquid

Objects

Coins
Heavy
Mechanical, metallic
Flying vehicle
Vehicle
Cylindrical
Curved

Lifeforms

Distant traveller
Foreign
Male
Alone
Focussed, driven
Too focussed on work
Headstrong
Tourist
Unhappy

Concepts

You will not find
Alien to this planet
Legend
Related to star
Distant past
Others watching on
Death through suffocation
Accident
After an event
Life after death

Movement

Windy
Swirling
Vibrating
Undulating
From above
Falling

Emotions

Abandoned
Anxiety
Nervous
Betrayed

SUMMARY

Based on the data comparison above the target site appears to be an isolated location comprising near-desert like conditions and featuring an extremely large natural structure set amidst undulating hills and in close proximity to a large expanse of water.

Central male life-form engaged upon some task involving solo travel to or from a distant location. It is suspected that this location is extra-terrestrial or at least from somewhere high above the planet's surface. Though initially enthusiastic the life form soon became troubled and not at all happy about the task that he was been required to do. Somehow he has been betrayed by others and to a certain extent abandoned.

Connected to the life form is a metallic object or vehicle, most probably the method of his conveyance. The movement of this object is swift though it is not necessarily propelled in the conventional sense. Associated movements included a swirling, undulating effect.

The task/journey lead to the lifeform's eventual death through a form of suffocation. The event was monitored by others from afar, others regarded with a certain degree of animosity by the life form in question.

At present the remains of this life form and/or his vehicle remain unlocated at some remote place on the planet.

Despite the obvious extra-terrestrial overtones there is a definite human feel to this target; it is highly probable that the life-form involved is a human being.

A Note on Analysis Procedure.

Analysis took part in 3 stages:

- 1) All sessions read, no notes taken, general impression/memory noted down one hour later.
- 2) Sessions reviewed and dominant concepts / data chunks taken down. The more a certain `chunk` of data cropped up in each session, the more I increased its font size.
- 3) Written summary attempted based on results of stage 2.